

Abstract

Director S.Y. Sheen will share her solid experience of over 30 years at TSMC, providing students with insights into the necessary skills and mindsets to enter the workplace. This includes actively seeking resources to achieve breakthroughs in different environments. Additionally, Director Sheen will discuss how to coordinate and collaborate cross-departmentally to succeed, drive practical innovations to build execution capabilities, and integrate organizational strengths through leadership to foster synergy and accomplish goals.