

Abstract

Dr. Renay will share her insights and experiences as the champion of the DuPont Taiwan Women's Network. She has led the employee resource group to connect with global leaders and establish networks within the company. Dr. Su has even gone further by forging collaborations with external partners such as industry, government, and academia. Dr. Su will discuss her journey and how these experiences have influenced her career development. Furthermore, she will highlight how the DuPont Women's Network advocates for gender equality, supports women to unleash their potential and continues to promote a diverse and inclusive workplace culture.
