

Abstract

Julie will share her learning journey, including the gains from participating in various competitions, clubs, and activities. Through these experiences, Julie has expanded her network and broadened her horizons. With limited time, Julie has managed to manage time effectively and explore various fields to find her value. Julie hopes that sharing her experiences can inspire everyone to find balance in a busy life and fully realize their potential..